
Dear Colleagues,

Asian American Voices (<http://laguardia.edu/AAPV>) is a collection of literary and visual work created by LaGuardia students to celebrate Asian and Asian American heritages at LaGuardia. We aim to showcase the diverse cultures, religions, histories, festivals, languages, and talents of the Asian American community of our campus as well as student work related to Asian American Studies.

LaGuardia students are invited to submit their work to the sixth issue of Asian American Voices, which will be published in May 2024. The submission link is <http://bit.ly/AAV2024>. The deadline is Friday, December 22, 2023.

Students of all backgrounds are invited to submit critical essays, term papers, creative fiction, poetry, recipes, art (photos, drawing, graphic art etc.), or interviews that address themes and literary or visual work related to Asian or Asian-American Studies. Student contributors have the chance to win a $50 gift card! Students who identify as AAPV are also encouraged to showcase their culture, identity, heritage, and/or write in their home languages (with English translation included).

- Submission Guidelines:
 - Literary submissions should be in Word Doc format.
 - Art submissions should be sent within 100 megabytes (MB) and accompanied by a description
 - Work should be proofread and revised for grammar errors.

If you'd like to explore how to incorporate materials from our previous issue into their classrooms, please see a list and pdfs of individual articles from all issues: <https://bit.ly/LG-AAV>.

Published artistic and written pieces address themes such as student's explorations of identity, experiences at LaGuardia, migration, gender, intergenerational encounters, ancestors, food, COVID-19, and profiles of Asian American faculty and staff, among others.

Thank you in advance for sharing the attached flyer with your students and encouraging them to submit. The submission link is <http://bit.ly/AAV2024>. Please reach out to me with questions (mmarciniak@lagcc.cuny.edu).

Sincerely,

Malgorzata Marciniak (On behalf of the Faculty Editorial Board)
Faculty Editorial Board

Anita Baksh (English), Tameka Battle (Health Science), Richa Gupta (Natural Sciences), Malgorzata Marciniak (MEC), Tomonori Nagano (ELA), Dana Trusso (Humanities), Choon Shan Lai (Social Science)